Dr. McCamman's Corner

As we approach the end of the school year, our attentions are divided between completing this year successfully and making strong plans for next year. At this point, we are elbow deep in planning for the 2011-12 school year and some of the plans involve possible teacher and program changes. I understand that at this time of year parents also begin to focus on the upcoming year and rumors begin to fly! As dedicated, loving parents, I know that you are concerned with how any changes will affect your child, however, I caution you not to believe or take part in speculation. When changes are made, you will be notified through the newsletter and we promise to publish information in a timely manner. We are a community working together to support the education of the students and decisions at Edu-Prize school are always based on what is best for them. Thank you for your continued support and understanding. As always, feel free to contact me or your child's teacher if we can help in any way.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN KINDERGARTEN???

Edu-Prize Kindergarteners have been busy exploring different habitats this quarter! First we were seeing black and white as we learned about cold deserts and the most famous animals that live there... Penguins! Then, we put on our mask, flippers and imaginations as we dove into the ocean. What did we see? Come by our rooms and take a look in our submarine journals; we wrote and drew all about it! Now we are 'feeling the heat' as we learn how plants and animals survive in the hot desert. Before spring break we will be talking a field trip to the Wild-life World Zoo to see the penguin exhibit and the new aquarium! We are so excited to be able to enhance our cottage in this way!

2010/2011

There has been no news yet about Kindergarten funding for next year. Please continue to watch this space for updates which will be posted as soon as they become available.
